

Charity Update

August 2021

N&N
Norfolk & Norwich
Hospitals Charity

Improving the hospital environment

The Charity has funded some fantastic artwork for the newly refurbished Nuclear Medicine Department, which was officially opened this week. The artwork was created by local artist Beverley Coraldean and we are really pleased with how lovely it looks. Well done to everyone involved in this work.

New IT equipment for Medical Illustration

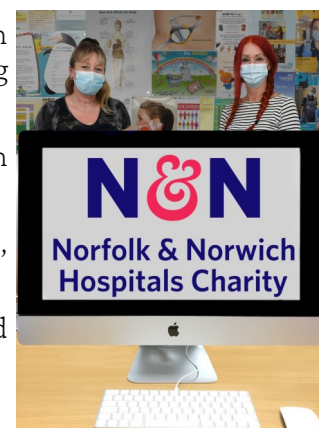

The Charity was recently able to fund new IT equipment for the Medical Illustration Team. The Charity regularly asks for Ann and Justine's assistance on designing posters and leaflets, so we were really pleased to be able to help them in this way.

In case you aren't aware of what they do, their graphic design service offers design and artwork to NNUH staff, providing a full creative service which includes:

- Design for print—conference and event posters, banners, brochures, leaflets, flyers and cards
- Illustration—from infographics, logos, simple line drawings to detailed medical artwork for publication
- Print—management of both digital and litho printing.

Posters can be printed in the hospital on a large-format, high resolution Canon printer in the department onto matt paper, fabric, satin paper and banner material

The team work with users of the service to help develop their ideas and produce an end product that meets their needs whilst also ensuring that it conforms to Trust and NHS brand guidelines.

If you are thinking of creating new, or updating existing patient information leaflets, posters, etc, please do get in touch with Julie Cooper, Head of Grants (Julie.Cooper@nnuh.nhs.uk) The Charity would really like to help with funding at least part of this work.

As well as helping to supply patients with relevant information, this would also give us an opportunity to let patients have some information about the Charity and how it helps fund improvements for NHS patients across the Trust.

The Norfolk & Norwich Hospitals Charity is registered with the Charity Commission (reg no 1048170). It works to enhance the care provided to patients of the Norfolk & Norwich University Hospitals through research, education, purchase of equipment, staff support and providing 'extras' that are not available through the NHS.

Recent Charity Grants:

The Charity has committed just under £7m to support projects across the Trust. Some of the projects supported by the Charity are over £1m, whereas others are much more modest – but can have real impact. The following are a selection of recent grant awards:

£2,395

to develop a website for Norfolk Paediatric Education Group meetings

£331

to purchase sensory toys for the Jenny Lind Children's Hospital

£298

to purchase flip flops for patients who are not able to wear their shoes

£3,650

to purchase an epidural training simulator

£2,385

to purchase an ECG machine for the Cromer Dialysis Unit

£19,900

to fund additional training and development for 116 members of Trust staff

£9,945

to fund additional research costs

£600

to provide assistance for breast cancer patients to purchase bras

£1,000

to provide wellbeing support for the Critical Care team

Then and now
250
YEARS OF THE N&N

We are currently putting together plans for our major appeal for next year's anniversary celebrations, to mark the opening of the Norfolk and Norwich Hospital 250 years ago.

The original hospital was built using charitable donations, and it seems entirely fitting for us to continue the tradition of helping to provide the latest and best medical facilities for the residents of Norfolk.

As well as raising money for new equipment we will be helping to facilitate displays about the hospital's history, so if you have any photos or memories that you would like to share, please do get in touch with us at 250@nnuh.nhs.uk.

Norfolk & Norwich Hospital 1952

Operating Theatre 1957

Undated ward photograph

For information about applying for Charity grants please contact the Charity Grants Team via charitablefunds@nnuh.nhs.uk or call Julie Cooper, Samuel Ridge-Ward or Ross Dennison on x3495